We provide services to get attested Indian Power of Attorney from the competent authority in India designated by the Government of India. Hassle free, cost effective and time committed delivery at your door step is our strength. Our strong Integrity Policy, Privacy Policy, vision and mission statement have made us the unbeatable leader in the field of Power of Attorney Attestation in India.

On reading of the following process and details, please keep in mind that the HRD and Higher Education Department never attest any non-educational certificates or commercial certificates and these certificates will be attested by other departments like General Administrative Department (GAD), Regional Attestation Center (RAC), Home Department, Sub Divisional Magistrate (SDM), Chambers of Commerce, Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MoFA), Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) etc. The under mentioned process of Attestation is in general and practices in India.

From the viewpoint of Certificates Attestation, the certificates could be divided into three types and these are Educational Certificates, Non Educational Certificates and Commercial Certificates. All these above mentioned three types of Indian Certificates could be attested or legalized from any foreign Embassy or Consulate present in Delhi, Mumbai, Chennai or Kolkata: India. To reach the final Attestation the Power of Attorney, it has to pass through some mandatory primary Attestation process from various authorized Indian authority. The Power of Attorney Attestation for primary, secondary and tertiary depends upon the purpose of the Attestation and the country where it will be used. The Attestation authorities for Attestation of Power of Attorney are General Administrative Department (GAD),

Regional Attestation Center (RAC), Home Department, Sub Divisional Magistrate (SDM), Human Resource Development (HRD), Ministry of Higher Education, Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MoFA), Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) etc. The detail description of Power of Attorney Attestation are as under,

Power of Attorney could be attested or legalized from any foreign Embassy or Consulate present in India after the Attestation of competent Government organization designated by the Government of India. The Governmental organizations are General Administrative Department (GAD), Regional Attestation Center (RAC), Home Department, Sub Divisional Magistrate (SDM), Human Resource Development (HRD), Higher Education Department etc. and the designated signatory may be the Section Officer, Deputy Commissioner, Commissioner, Magistrate, Sub Divisional Magistrate, Commissioner, Resident Commissioner, Secretary, Chief Secretary, Joint Secretary, Assistant Secretary, Director, Deputy Director, Registrar etc. Once the Power of Attorney has attested from the designated authority in India, and then this Power of Attorney will be attested by Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) or Ministry of foreign Affairs (MoFA), New Delhi, Mumbai, Chennai, Kolkata: Government of India and finally the Power of Attorney will be attested by the destination country's Embassy or consulate present in India. The above mentioned Power of Attorney Attestation process is applicable if the destination country is a non Hague Conventional Country (Non-HCC).

In practical, the above mentioned Power of Attorney Attestation process is very much time consuming and cost demanding. To overcome the unavoidable circumstances, apart from the above discussed Power of Attorney Attestation procedure, there is a very old Power of Attorney Attestation process is practiced in India. In this process the Power of Attorney firstly will be Attested by the Home Department, Mumbai (Mumbai Mantralaya) after that the Power of Attorney will be Attested by Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) or Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MoFA), Delhi: India. Once the Power of Attorney has Attested from Home Department, Mumbai (Mumbai Mantralaya) and Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) or Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MoFA), Delhi: India then this Power of Attorney will finally be attested by the destination country's Embassy or consulate present in India. The said process is very old practiced; most popular, well recognized as well as cost effective and time effective. This Attestation process is most respectful, well known and highly acceptable Attestation process in India and acceptable by ninety nine percent countries across the globe.

Point to be noted that, the above discussed Power of Attorney Attestation process is an alternate Attestation process but it is genuine as well as well acceptable Attestation process for approximately all Countries across the Globe. In the same time, some Countries are very particular for Power of Attorney Attestation process and they require the state level Attestation / authentication (GAD, HRD, Home Department, Higher Education Department etc) on the Power of Attorney prior to the Attestation from Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) or Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MoFA) as well as their Embassy or Consulate Attestation or legalization in India.

Apart from the above said alternate Power of Attorney Attestation process, there is another alternate Power of Attorney Attestation process is also practiced in India and this process of Power of Attorney Attestation is in use in maximum level now a day in India. In this process the Power of Attorney issued from anywhere in India, firstly will be Attested from Sub Divisional Magistrate (SDM), New Delhi after that the Power of Attorney will be attested from Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) or Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MoFA), Delhi, Mumbai, Chennai, Kolkata: India. When the Power of Attorney has attested from the above two departments then this Power of Attorney will finally be Attested by the destination country's Embassy or Consulate present in India. The said process is also an alternate, genuine and acceptable process for maximum number of Countries across the globe. But point to be noted that some Power of Attorney could never be attested through this process and in the same time, some Countries are very particular for Power of Attorney Attestation process and they require the state level Attestation / Authentication (GAD, HRD, Home Department, Higher Education Department etc) on the Power of Attorney prior to the Attestation from Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) or Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MoFA) as well as their Embassy or Consulate Attestation or legalization in India.

Note:

HRD and Higher Education Department never attests any non-educational or commercial certificates. All the above said Power of Attorney Attestation process, the Attestation from Notary is mandatorily require. The Attestation from Notary could be completed from anywhere in India for any Indian Power of Attorney. But some country requires the Notarization from the state of issuance of the Power of Attorney. All the Attestation process will be done on the original Power of Attorney. Some Country requires the translation copy of the attested or legalized Power of Attorney issued in India in English language to their own country's languages. The translation requirement could vary from Country to Country, as some country requires the Translated Power of Attorney after the whole Attestation process and on the other hand some Country requires the Translated Power of Attorney to be attested. Also some country requires both the original as well as Translated Power of Attorney to be attested. Some Country requires the fresh / reissued Attested Power of Attorney. In that case the issuance of the Power of Attorney and the complete Attestation will be within six months. To attest the Power of Attorney from the above said various departments, there is no requirement of presence of the Power of Attorney holder or their relatives.
